Write your MEMOIR,

GHOSTWRITER

My passion is to help archive American history through personal and family Life Story memoirs for clients, creating entertaining books.

As an ad agency owner for 31 years, and a ghostwriter for 10 years, I can write in any voice. I can also create the graphics for the cover and pages, and manage the book through the publishing process. I can promote the book after it's printed. I do all of the services myself and have been self publishing since 2008. Most ghostwriters can write but cannot provide full service. I am a film producer, too.

I have my family history traced back 600 years on my father's side by an aunt that was a genealogist. On my mother's side, they were some of the first politicians, and founded the first churches and colleges in America. Some of their European history was also traceable through public records as high profile citizens. What is lacking is personal insights about their era and what they would share to current day family and readers.

As a ghostwriter, I can help articulate what a client wants for their legacy and what they want to pass on to current and future generations.

Give me a call and let's start your Life Story! Casey 407-629-6366

In the Flow in Year Five

Flow Together Past and Present

At a time of inflation and shrinkflation, I did my part to help. In the spirit of collaboration and community, I sold every ad and Charticle for half price of my already low rate card rates.

Flow Together to me means we are all in this world together, so let's help each other. I took the lead.

On my Mac, I was looking for the Flow Together logo I created for a website I built some 20-plus years ago and instead found a summary of my career experience that I wrote for a film company this year for some freelance work. I didn't find the logo, but like all experiences in our past, they flow with us to our present. I didn't consult with the film company either. It seems with publishing Chart and the related promotions, I didn't have time during Palm Beach season. Time. Where does it go? My time goes to making other people rich and famous.

I'm an entrepreneur who uses my skills as a professional communicator to continually be creative and follow my passions to write, and to promote others, especially creative people. By 21, I had a B.A. in journalism and advertising and a portfolio as a paid advertising copywriter. I was focused and driven. By 23, I was hired as a marketing director for an in-house ad agency for one of the biggest three advertising budgets in the Orlando market. With only an assistant and later a graphic artist, I created and managed every public impression, including all media, PR, events and anything with the branding images or messages. Broadcast was my strength and interest.

I started my advertising agency 31 years ago in 1991. My favorite clients were the start-ups where I created the whole plan. I also freelanced for other media and agencies. I was hired by TV stations as a freelance writer-producer, by other ad agencies as a media planner and buyer, by magazines as a graphic designer, and by many as a copywriter.

When websites first started about 25 years ago, I created around 100 of them for Winter Park businesses. I was the biggest reseller of hosting for ParkAve.net. We collaborated and they gave me their leads for small websites and they created the larger websites.

I also created a directory website FlowTogether.com for all of my creative friends.

Many people in advertising moonlight to do their passion. Writers, filmmakers, artists, composers, musicians, dancers and such paid a small flat fee to be part of a directory website, making it easy and affordable to have an online presence, and easier for me to get us higher in the search engine rankings with more relevant content. Win-win. I've spent decades creating and collaborating to promote others. The FlowTogether.com website co-op concept flowed into Chart.

My ad agency was booming in 2005 and one of my video / film production clients was UCF College of Engineering and Computer Science. Producing the videos paid well and was fun but stopped because Chart ate my life.

In 2005 I started Chart charity art magazine and art gallery, with extensive events and promotions because I had small budget advertising clients who only wanted to reach upscale Winter Park to sell luxury goods and services. Packaging a co-op turn-key marketing program where I could pool their budgets served my clients well. Chart also promoted people in the arts which was the passion part of it. That is why it worked, because I was excited about promoting creative people. I published Chart for ten years with an assistant, sometimes a freelance graphic artist, and an army of volunteers.

In 2008, I started self publishing books authored by me and illustrated by the Chart artists in my Chart art gallery. I wrote books and then collaborated with Rollins College and then the theater department at UCF to create music, dance, and films based on my books. The creative people who participated were featured in Chart.

I got cyber stalked at a Chart event in Palm Beach in 2011 and again in 2013, and wrote a book about it in between in 2012. I was in the process of expanding Chart to affluent coastal communities around the state. By 2014, I put Chart on hold for a few years. I wrote books and did ghostwriting of memoir Life Stories, which I still do. I still get advertising clients for luxury marketing, too.

In 2018, I published the first annual Chart magazine in Palm Beach. I scaled it back so I could publish it by myself and leave time for other opportunities. I streamlined it with CHARTICLES which are one page sponsored articles about a person's favorite charity or arts with a photo and 250 words written in the first person.

Life keeps flowing. That is part of the history, and where is Chart flowing currently? Much of my community involvement is through creating the Chart Live events showcasing charities and creative people. In spring of 2022, I also became the director of Palm Beach Writers Society.

I attend social and charity events for the organizations in Chart. Two major ones are for Cancer Alliance of Help and Hope "Shop The Day Away" and "Dance the Night Away" events. Supporting this charity through Chart I find rewarding. I believe in their mission to help with financial aid for necessities for local cancer patients.

This issue is created with great intention and care for the Palm Beach community. I am grateful for the support and for the people who co-create our inspired community promotion. Thank you Chart readers for your continued participation as we all Flow Together.

Catalyst in Palm Beach novel published September 2019 as foreshadowing to current day. In the first chapter a spiritual reading from 2002 is referenced. Many intuitive predictive insights are revealed in the novel.

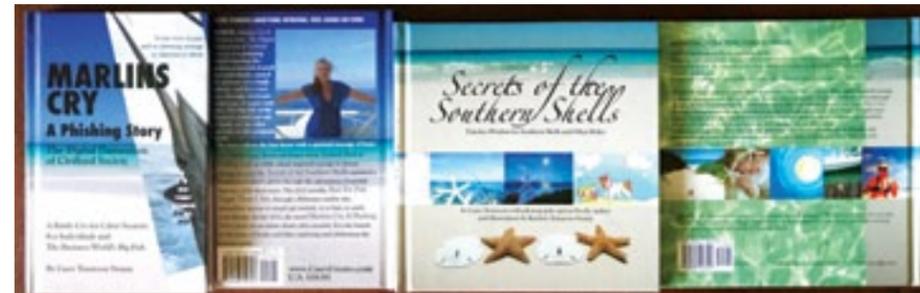

"She took a few deep breaths, and closed her bon bon brown eyes. We settled into our comfortable chairs, and she started her reading, 'Your clever lines will become inspirational, not motivational. Simple. To-the-point. Zen-ism. Black-and-white. Different. This film (you will create) is about the American Dream. Your work is the American Dream and your romantic life will converge as you do your work. You will experience a love unlike any other. But it's not what you imagine it to be.'"

Future Adventure, Mystery, Spiritualism, Travel, Palm, Coast Line, etc. The Florida Keys, Bahamas and more

INSIDE: The quest for an eternal twin soul sparks a supernatural epic life era. Intuitive truths strip the superficial to reveal the essence of integrity and Truth. The main character Cat dances with distractions and illusions as they seek away to reveal a life purpose. Adventure travels take Cat around the world. The spiritual journey brings her home to embrace the tender parts of humanity.

AUTHOR: Casey Tennyson has used her writing as a leader in advertising, marketing, publishing and ghostwriting. Her fifth book "Catalyst in Palm Beach" sets the stage for success. Many of her books are based in Florida and the Caribbean where she finds her creative energy and inspiration. Tennyson also is the publisher of Chart charity art magazine in Florida.

BOOK REVIEW

"'Marlins Cry A Phishing Story' is a Big Book of Life. Each succinct chapter has a novel-size volume of depth. The way the author creates a sequence of words of profound simple truths of humanity makes her a powerful, relevant voice of our time. The book reads as if you were in all the places, you were involved in the dramas, you are part of the scene and part of her life. She's a powerful a voice for modern story telling weaving moments in time revealing universal truths. The main character asks, 'What do you stand for and how do you live up to it?' Everyone knows the sharks and the alligator-type characters, but to understand the Marlin who represents American business is big. I am going to read this book time and again for deeper meaning and to better understand her insights. I am an avid reader, and when I read this book, I declared 'This is a writer. Casey Tennyson can write.'" – Xenia Psihas, ADC Art Design Culture

Samantha continues to support her sister's memory by teaming with her father to raise scholarship funds in Jessica's name. Another pledge made while comforting her dying sister was a new baby in the family. Meet Alfie.

CHARITY, JESSICA MARULLI MEMORIAL SCHOLARSHIP

I am accustomed to public speaking, and I find myself at ease performing on stage. I found myself struggling to muster words fighting back tears to speak at the inauguration of my sister's foundation as I looked out into the familiar audience. I had spent 13 months by her side as her fulltime "medical-cheerleader," as she braved 15 surgeries. Jessica who was the epitome of health, was told she had stage four pancreatic cancer on the same day she found out she was pregnant. We lost baby Eleanor Grace and then my oldest sister on Feb. 7, 2016 at the young age of 39. The loss was devastating to our close family and to a community that loved her.

Creating a scholarship in her name somewhat eased our pain. We launched the Marulli Memorial Scholarship in 2018 on her birthday, March 29. From 2018 to 2022, we sponsored 11 liberal arts students at my father, Al Marulli's alma mater Franklin Pierce University. We planned to sponsor one student a year. With over 136 donors per year, we sponsored five in 2021-22.

Jessica graduated top in her class in Marine Biology from Rollins College in 1998. Our Aunt Lydia passed that year from cancer. Experiencing a loved one suffering inspired Jessica to study cures. Her brain cancer research attracted major attention. She was offered research positions but instead went to NYC with her friends, then back to Palm Beach in Real Estate. To honor her love of science and research, we are moving the scholarship to a college close to Jessica's heart. Perhaps Jessica's story will inspire young scientists to continue what she once started.

ARTS, GARDEN DESIGN FOR FLORIDA SUSTAINABLE GARDENS

Native plants are vital to sustainable landscapes as native species and the insects and pollinators they support have evolved together over millenia. The leaves of all plants contain toxins and only certain insects have evolved with the ability to ingest them. Milkweed is the host plant for monarchs, and is the only species the monarch caterpillar can eat – therefore, if we lose our milkweed, we will lose our monarchs. This is just one example, but applies to all native species. The cycad coontie is the host to the endangered Atala Butterfly, and the native passionflower vines are hosts to our state butterfly, the zebra heliconian. The importance of native plants to maintaining viable, sustainable ecosystems cannot be understated. With that in mind, here are a few wonderful natives to try in your own landscapes: some excellent large shrubs are Firebush, Hamelia patens, with beautiful orange/red flowers, Pineland Strongbark, Bourreria cassinifolia with charming white flowers, Woolly teabush, Melochia tomentosa, with small lavender flowers and Bahama senna, Senna mexicana var chapmanii, with yellow flowers. If you live on the seacoast, one of the most beautiful shrubs available is sea lavender, Argusia gnaphalodes, with clusters of fragrant white flowers above mounds of silvery graygreen foliage.

Some great native plants for hedges are wild coffee, coco plum, Simpsons stopper, silver or green buttonwood, and Florida boxwood. For colorful perennials, try beach verbena with lavender flowers, yellow coreopsis and dune sunflower, blue wild petunia and white native plumbago and lantana.

All of the plants recommended thrive in Florida landscapes and none require any toxic chemicals. Try these and help save our fragile environment!

ARTS, FASHION STYLING, PERSONAL SHOPPING

Couture & More owner Arlene Bonner in her 25-year boutique on Royal Poinciana Way. The ladies of Palm Beach count on her personalized one-on-one customer service for shopping for fashions from daytime to galas.

At Couture and More, my clients have trusted me for 25 years to style them with clothes and accessories for their galas and cocktail events, and sportswear and casual wear for every day. The store is like a mini-department store filled with pretty things that I select specifically for the ladies who shop with me. After our long relationships, I have a keen sense of what to order that they will like. When shopping for fundraising fashions, they often thank me for not overcharging so they have more money to give to their charities.

One of our great-priced quality lines growing in popularity is customized suits and dresses from Paris. I help the customers choose the fabrics, styles, and lengths for sleeves and hemlines.

Whether ordering custom suits or from our curated boutique, customers get one-on-one personalized service. With our full-service alterations department, we can get the perfect fit every time.

I am a people person and take great pride in ordering and merchandising attractive things, opening my store every day, and making my customers happy. I work because I love what I do, but also because this is my livelihood. Retail can look fun, but it's not an easy business. The past two years have had even more challenges with manufacturing, shipping, and staffing. I show up every day and do my best. I want the ladies who shop with me to have a cheerful shopping experience. To the many who have been so patient, loyal and kind during this time of uncertainties, tensions and angst, I am very grateful. Leave the stress of the day outside, and come in and let me help remind you that you are beautiful and special.

ARTS, ARCHIVIST, MEMOIR WRITER

Seeing pure joy and happiness in this photograph, every picture does indeed tell a story.

“A WAY WITH WORDS” is the newest chapter in my creative life, writing the memoirs of others and thoroughly enjoying the process.

A Communication Arts major from the University of Wisconsin, I have made a career writing for national ad agencies, corporations and the hotel industry. To preserve memories after the events of 9/11, opening Fine Arts Scrapbooking with a mission statement “Creating a Bond Stronger than Paper and Glue” led me to create projects that could range from a Golden Anniversary album from a beloved family to a 10 year project chronicling the career of a Top Fortune 100 Executive.

An avid journal keeper from my teenage years with several bound volumes, I can hopefully fill a void I felt when my mother died young and left behind no written thoughts about her life to share and pass down to her family. My children and grandchildren will have a keen sense of my journey in life and sharing those thoughts are priceless.

Intuitive by nature, easy to talk to and a quick study, together we can determine the scope of how detailed you want your memoir to be. With or without photos. The cadence of your own voice will shine through. At the end of the journey, you will raise your glass to a life well lived.

ARTIST, SHOE AND LEATHER ARTISAN

Enrico De Rosa at his store La Costiera, which means The Coast off Worth Avenue in Via Newsome in Palm Beach
Enrico creates custom sandals in the store typically in less than an hour.

I started in 2003 and learned the craft from Maestro Don Catello one of the first shoe craftsmen of the Amalfi Coast. In 2007, I graduated in shoe design and footwear development in San Mauro Pascoli, the high-end shoe capitol of the world, then collaborated for a designer office where we created collections for major brands. In 2011, I decided to go back to my roots and create luxury sandals. I collaborated with some factories in the Amalfi Coast and learned the manufacturing aspect. I then opened my own shop in Sorrento where I made sandals for thousands of international tourists. There also I met my wife, a third generation Italian American, and we opened our store in Palm Beach in 2019.

Inspired by my homeland, we create custom sandals made to measure. Customers can select a style on display, they can then choose the heel between flat or one inch, or cork wedge up to four inches. The color and style choices can be adapted to each heel. We use only the finest leather from Italy. Sandals can be embellished with high quality Swarovski crystals. We also created also our own exclusive line of super comfy and stylish moccasins.

I am grateful to Chart Magazine because through it we were selected by Big Dog Ranch Rescue to participate in Wine, Women and Shoes 2022.

We met people that became our customers and helped the charity, too.

I will spend part of summer 2022 with my beautiful wife and daughter in the Amalfi Coast, and source more quality products and create new designs to add to our latest collection so that we can continue to provide a unique shopping experience.

ARTS SUPPORTER

I express my own creativity in seeking dwellings with scenic views. In Florida I have had views of the ocean on Jupiter Island and currently the intracoastal in Stuart. In other areas, I presently overlook the Pacific Ocean from the Big Island in Hawaii, the Smokey Mountains in Henderson, North Carolina and the Teton Mountains in Jackson Hole, Wyoming.

As a life-long horse woman, I am innately drawn to nature and the outdoors. I was known as a horse whisperer as a trainer and a farm owner. For each of my properties now, I collect art from the local areas that bring the culture of the area inside.

In 2006, I began collecting art from Miami-based David Banegas when he had a gallery in Banner Elk, North Carolina, where I lived at the time. I have followed his successful career and continue to purchase his art. I also sponsored his ad in Chart magazine for a few years.

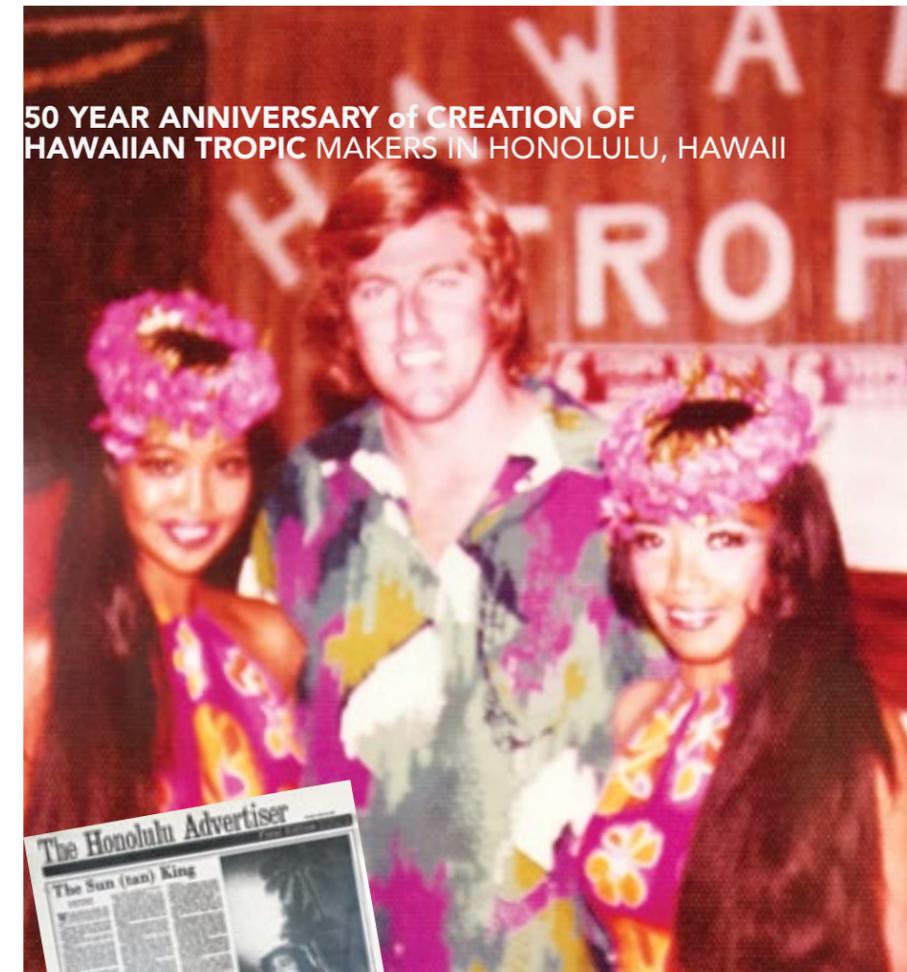

My eclectic art collection includes equestrian themed personal treasures that I keep in my primary residence. I add local art and pieces from my world travels. If I love it, then it all goes together is my theory. Art doesn't have to be expensive for me to appreciate its value.

Don Langer put the "Hawaii" in the Hawaiian Tropic brand. Above are mementos from his early days based in Honolulu in the 1970s and 1980s.

At right he was fishing in Bimini. He notes that marlins are now released and not taken from the water. He's always lived around sunny beaches to fish, dive, surf and enjoy island life.

ARTS SUPPORTER FLORIDA HISTORY, THE BUILDING OF A BRAND

I am impressed with Author Casey Tennyson and her Chart magazine. Her book "Marlins Cry A Phishing Story" describes fishing in the Bahamas articulately and artistically. I've fished in and hung out on many of those islands. Her poetic detailed descriptions of island lifestyles bring back treasured memories.

I am a native of Daytona Beach and I attended Palm Beach Community College in 1970 and 1971 and still love the Palm Beach area. In 1972, I became a partner of Tanning Research makers of Hawaiian Tropic sunscreen products in Honolulu, Hawaii. That launched a 38-year career as what The Honolulu Advertiser in 1980 called "The Sun (Tan) King."

With my brother David, I managed the manufacturing and distribution in Hawaii in the 1970s and 1980s. I traveled where I had distribution rights all over the Pacific through Asia, Japan, Tahiti, Fiji, Micronesia, and all the islands in between, plus New Zealand, Australia and other markets.

I partnered with a Palm Beach college friend to run Hawaiian Tropic in Australia. Like in fishing, sometimes you don't pull in the trophies or a fish gets off the hook, but the fishing is always rewarding and memorable. I had been traveling for years, and sold the business in 2010 to Energizer.

I like to make women happy! It's my goal to increase their self-esteem by dressing them in style with pieces that look far more expensive than they are. The basis of my jewelry designs is ormolu, the bronze mounts that enhanced furniture, boxes, clocks, and other items in France during the reign of Louis XIV through the Napoleonic period. The lightweight material is perfect for crafting into unique pieces. I first encountered ormolu stamps while working on an interior design job in Paris, and their detail intrigued me. I converted some of the pieces into stick pins, cuff links, earrings, and brooches, which inspired my present business of creating fashion jewelry. I spent years studying and working in graphic art, fashion, and interior design. I believe that all arts overlap, and one attains a good eye through working in any of the artistic disciplines. I've traveled extensively throughout Africa, India, Indonesia, Thailand, and Europe, finding a variety of organic mediums to incorporate into my jewelry. These mediums include bone, sea glass, textiles, bamboo, and precious stones. I worked with craftsmen in Bali, living with families there for two months each year for 22 years! I also spent a year on a 100-acre bamboo plantation. As a result, my artistic expression is visibly worldly from exposure to and understanding of other countries and their traditions, as well as my own environment. Being involved with charities such as helping to support shelters for abused women and children is one way I give back. I'm happy to become involved with any charity as a vendor for fundraising events.

Valerie Horn interviewed by Chart magazine Contributing Writer Lynn Mackle and photographed at the Chart Live March Arts Mixer in West Palm Beach in March 2022.

My life was like a novel, so I wrote a memoir, "Quiet Mind Crazy Heart". Palm Beach drew me in 2009 to be near my mother, but I keep my home in the Hudson Valley. Before then, I grew up in New York and St. Thomas. I was a fashion designer in London and New York in the 60s, a yogi in India, a mom in Florida, and a public artist with mosaics all over the state. I illustrated my book using the Procreate app on my iPad. Digital art has given me all new creative inspiration and so I now also have large framed digital art and prints. I'm also writing a series of children's books which I illustrate on my iPad. I have a toy agent for stuffed dogs to match the book characters. I am going back to my days at the London College of Fashion, and exploring fabrics and patterns to create the prototypes. Most people know my creativity through public art. I started my immersion into mosaics and ceramics in the 1990s. I create glass mosaics, quirky ceramics with interactive features. I use clay, underglazes, glazes, and all manner of jewels, gold and silver tiles to create bas-relief textural work. I got my first public art commission in 2000 and have since created interior and exterior installations for the Orlando Shakespeare Theater, the Main Palm Beach County Library, and the Susan B. Katz Theater in Pembroke Pines, as well as dozens of parks and public buildings throughout Florida. In spring 2022, I installed eight mosaic walls in Pioneer Park in Dunedin, Florida. I've lived a life on the roller coaster of creative adventures, so I'll continue to embrace the never-ending flow of inspirations.

CHARITY JACK THE BIKE MAN

We give away 4,000 bikes a year to kids, mainly at Christmas. We work with 22 schools, and dozens of non-profits. Proceeds from our full-service bicycle shop directly support our mission: To strengthen our community through bicycle education and safety programs. We offer an after-school experience for middle school children, an opportunity for adults and teens to exchange work for a bicycle, and a "Character Counts" incentive that provides a bicycle and helmet each month to a student exemplifying a particular character trait. Students can earn community service hours by helping at our 15,000-square-foot facility.

The kids gave me a reason to stay alive. Several decades ago, my physical and mental health were poor, and I was forced to use a walker. One day I was sitting on my front porch in a depressed state of mind, when a boy fell off a bike in front of my house. I grudgingly repaired the bike's faulty brakes. Neighbors and friends began bringing me bikes to repair and give away, and I started giving wheels to children and young people needing transportation to work.

When problems arise, the kids come to me for help. Supporting and mentoring them, rather than focusing on my own problems, has resulted in tremendous improvements to my health.

We have a new program called "Bicycling for Health" which is shown to improve health for pre-Diabetic and Parkinson's patients for example.

Some of our kids were headed toward a life of crime in gangs. Our bike shop has built their self-esteem and inspired them to lead productive and fulfilling lives.

CHARITY ALZHEIMER'S COMMUNITY CARE

CEO Mary M. Barnes is in the lobby at Alzheimer's Community Care headquarters in West Palm Beach. The building was funded by philanthropist Don Baxter in memory of his uncle, C. Kenneth Baxter, who is shown in the portrait with his wife Laura. Don Baxter was the catalyst for the ACC organization, and Mary M. Barnes accepted his invitation to be its driving force since 1997.

Alzheimer's Community Care (ACC) was founded over 25 years ago, initiated through Philanthropist Don Baxter. He sought support in 1992 for his uncle diagnosed with Alzheimer's disease through another organization I headed at the time. He noticed that locally, patients needed access to more Alzheimer's-related services.

Don asked me, "If you could do what you feel is right for our patients, caregivers and their families, would you come to work for such an organization?"

In 1996, The Baxter Foundation funded the building which we occupy in West Palm Beach, and ACC was born. I became the Executive Director (now titled CEO) when the building opened in 1997. I was blessed to bring together our founders who were the most generous, caring people, and that legacy continues today through our Board of Directors.

There are over half a million Alzheimer's patients in Florida. We manage 12 specialized day centers in Palm Beach, Martin, and St. Lucie Counties. Our services include Family Nurse Navigators to provide guidance to those needing assistance through the Alzheimer's journey, an ID Locator Service to track patients who have wandered, a 24-hour crisis line to assist families needing urgent help, and much more. Our newest project is the Brain Fitness Institute, a concept which will inspire early diagnosis and individualized intervention, as well as innovations for later stage patients.

This year, we are celebrating ACC's 25th anniversary. I am looking forward to a celebration in December to commemorate this milestone for both the organization and me personally.

ARTIST / SCULPTOR JENNINGS

In My Boca Raton studio, called La Paloma, I create, draw, paint and sculpt. My cathartic sketches which evolve into large painted canvases and engaging sculptures are all contemporary in nature. I strive to captivate and entice the viewer to become immersed in the emotions expressed in my artworks. My paintings depict elegant playful contemporary versions of the female form while my "Violin" series are quite literally musical instruments made seemly human and often interact in concert with one another.

In 2004, I created the "Ladder Project" derived the realization that everyday objects are not limited to their prescribed role. I reinvented the common ladder to reveal life forms that reflect social behavior by anthropomorphizing them. "My Dear Ladder Friends" series features two stainless steel sculptures patterned with curvaceous striations. Seven-foot-high "Animate" expresses to the world freedom from within and eleven-foot "Silver Lady", conversation, and dance. I also recreated "Silver Lady's" gesturing hands into artful cocktail skewers called "Giraffe Hands", which make a perfect gift and a special collectible.

Ten-foot "Aspire" features undulating elements with a prismatic orange powder coated finish. It creates a multi-sensory transitioning color experience during the day. When illuminated at night the stationary sculpture appears to have movement.

My artworks have been exhibited in Boca Raton Museum Artist Guild, Old School Square's Cornell Museum, Savides Gallery, Royal Palm Place and Palm Beach Showroom. I am honored to be in collections throughout the U.S., Latin America, Italy and Spain.

ARTIST MJ DOWLING

I see the world from a different vantage point. My abstract aerial coastal paintings explore the relationship between the built and natural environments. In my art I contrast the structure of the built environment with the fluidity of natural spaces through the use of color, topography, waypoints, patterns and shapes. By merging these elements through a unique pallet knife technique, my paintings depict a bold new approach that captures the "spirit" of a place.

From an early age I was influenced by my mother's artistic talents and my father's passion for construction. Naturally drawn to the study of both Art and Architecture, I pursued a Bachelor's of Architecture degree at Carnegie Mellon University (CMU) in Pittsburgh. While at CMU, I also minored in Art and took numerous classes in drawing, painting, and sculpture. Upon graduating in 1987, I was commissioned as an US Air Force Officer and began a 20-year journey serving my country as a Registered Architect. During this time, I lived in and visited numerous countries world-wide developing a passion for both environmental and urban design. My art seeks to highlight the need for a balanced design approach which protects our natural environment.

My three decades of Art, Architecture and Urban Design Planning, combined with my passion for the environment, are at the core of my abstract aerial coastal paintings. As my art progresses, I wish to continue to serve society by contributing a significant portion of my painting sales to charitable causes.

Artist MJ Dowling with paintings "Palm Beach" and "Hutchinson Island" photographed by Patrick Dowling and interviewed by Chart Contributing Writer Debby Coles-Dobay.

With broad and dramatic splashes of glowing color, my artworks become joyous, magnificent celebrations of life. They are a testament to my eccentric personality and the fortuitous rediscovery of my stifled passion of art later in life.

I am an intuitive artist. The most gratifying paintings are when I begin with no frame of reference and just allow myself to enjoy the journey of creating. My swirls and sweeps of vibrant color are designed to be subjects of interpretation, which may serve to enhance the creativity and imagination of the viewer.

I'm a strong believer in the concept that "no man is an island", and my use of color becomes a metaphor for human and global relationships. Sometimes I try to consciously blend disparate colors to create a sense of harmony.

Besides my paintings, I produce museum quality, limited edition, signed prints of my original artworks on both paper and aluminum. These prints are perfect for collectors who love my artworks that have previously sold or want a custom size to fit their space.

My paintings have been featured in the indie movie "Universal Signs", which featured the 2022 Oscar winning actor Troy Kotsur of the 2022 Oscar winning best picture Coda. They are also published on book and music covers. My artworks are exhibited in the permanent collection in the consulate in Dubai, and in galleries and museums throughout the United States.

My artistic career over the past 20 Years was based in London, Paris and New York. I am carrying on a Palm Beach portrait tradition since moving to the island in 2018 with my wife Olga and twin boys. Coincidentally, also in 2018, Palm Beach artist, Ralph Cowan, portraitist to some of the most celebrated and wealthy glitterati, passed. I am perpetuating his traditions and painting some of the island's most celebrated residents and their families. For example, Palm Beach Day Academy commissioned me to paint a portrait of professor Ralph Greco. The school unveiled it at the Centennial Gala in April 2022. The auction item brought in $60,000 with an additional gift, and will hang in the school's library on Seaview Avenue.

I studied old master techniques at Academie Julian in Paris.

UK based art advisor Diana Ewer wrote at that time, "Strosberg has an innate ability to capture his subjects' emotions, expressions and essence that reveals not only their inner most being but an honest reflection of the person that is known and portrayed in an entirely honest way."

I strive to bring out the best in people's souls and create a tribute to their life and humanity.

The Cultural Council for Palm Beach County has also taken interest in my figurative work which is in many museums and private collections. In spring 2022, I was the featured artist for their group show "Art acquisitions: Small and Large". In January and February 2023, the Cultural Council will host a solo exhibition of my paintings of a modern and whimsical take on Henry Flagler and the Gilded Age.

Contemporary Artist and Portraitist Serge Strosberg at his Palm Beach home with an oil and egg tempera portrait, of his twins. Serge has painted many portraits for Palm Beach homes, offices and public buildings. Commissions range from $5,000 to $60,000 depending on the dimensions and number of people in the painting.

Change is inevitable, retirement equals busy; yet passions never die. Helping veterans began in 2004, with the Freedom Team of Wounded Vets at Walter Reed. Through marathons in the US and abroad; Berlin, Rome, Moscow, Rio, even Krakow, where we visited Auschwitz, thousands re-found life. On 9/11/19 my friend and colleague, Jacqui Kapinowski, started Shifting Gears United (SGU). I'm delighted to help raise funds through Freedom On The Green and Freedom Coast Ride. A volunteer-based 501(c)3, I'm certain money raised goes to programs and services they provide to veterans, first responders and the disabled in Florida.

With documentary sizzler, produced by award-winning Coppoletta Productions via US Wheelchair Sports, "Never Surrender" highlights courageous stories of people who thrived after meeting Dick Traum, the first amputee to run a marathon on a prosthetic leg in NYC. Many more stories needs to be told, more lives to inspire.

"Auntie Mary Asks ..." is my new book adventure for children. My goal is to help them find their own voice with respect and kindness. I'm not a parent or teacher, yet children open up and we talk about appearance, safety, beliefs and so much more.

Buying into Palm Beach Patio Furniture saved jobs. Investing in our future, we create luxurious outdoor spaces. My new Florida home features an entertaining patio which allows me to help support favorite charities. I showcase our furniture, wear my Caryna Nina fashions, while raising funds and awareness to help others. "If you're going through a tough time, do something for someone else!"

"Why not use a travel agent? You get perks, upgrades and sometimes less change fees, with the same or better rates than booking yourself. Where we really shine is when someone needs support, we can get directly to the providers so the client isn't sitting on the phone for hours."

Max and Joseph McNamara attended the "Dance The Night Away" fundraiser for Cancer Alliance of Help and Hope in April 2022. Max was one of the volunteer dancers, and won Most Charismatic and The People's Choice Award. The pair jumped into the Palm Beach Philanthropy scene in 2021 and the community eagerly embraced them. Everyone has a smile when these two enter an event. Their fabulous fashions and youthful exuberance attract you, and their polite sincerity makes you want more and more of the McNamaras.

CHARITY PHILANTHROPISTS, ARTS FASHION ENTHUSIASTS

In 2020, the world of Joseph and Max McNamara suddenly looked very different. They quickly realized that they had been locals since 2015, but they didn't know much about their community. They established Sky Cap Corp together in 2011, a global 24/7 medical repatriation company, and most of their time was spent traveling to their office in New York to work and fueling their shared love of fashion by shopping and attending fashion events.

Owning a business that revolves around helping others, they wanted to get involved with charities. 2020 offered a rare opportunity for them to explore options. They attended their first event; "Shop the Day Away" for Cancer Alliance of Help and Hope and fell in love with the organization, feeling a strong connection to the mission and people. They have since attended every CAHH event and, in 2022, they joined the CAHH board of directors.

2021-2022 was their first traditional season supporting CAHH, and others including Big Dog Ranch Rescue, American Humane, Palm Beach Symphony, and many more. The charity events remind them of fashion events, but attending the charity events was humbling and filled them both with a deep sense of purpose.

"Collecting beautiful things is lovely and fulfilling in its own way. We will continue to fuel our love of fashion, but since the pandemic our priorities have drastically changed. We want to see more of our time and money go towards helping others and we will only continue to get more involved with our charities over time. There is nothing more rewarding than knowing you've made a positive impact on someone's life," said Max.

Sky Meadow Palma
Mystical Healing Arts Artist for HipGoddess™ in The Metaphysical
Healing Institute of Palm Beach

Sky Meadow Palma is currently offering experiences designed to brighten your spirit in the Hipgoddess™ Soul Spa room located within The Metaphysical Healing Institute of Palm Beach (MHIPB).

You probably recognize Palm Beach's HipGoddess™ owner Sky Meadow Palma as a model twirling in couture to ladies who lunch and shop on Worth Avenue. Her lifelong career as a fashion model and talent based mainly here in Florida has allowed for her vibrant persona to shine in charity shows, on film and live modeling events. What you may find fascinating is that she is also a professional mystical healing guide. Arch Angel Card readings, deep level re-patterning meditations, and spiritual energy infusing calibration, in addition to manifestation, and wellness coaching are included in service offerings. Sky also makes whimsical spiritual Pop Art. The cartoon above is her fairy-like logo inspiration, and Sky is currently painting a series of "healing frequency" pieces.

"I believe in using ALL given talents," Sky said.

She is a Mystical Healing Arts Artist who works with spiritual energy, as a wellness and meditation coach. The off-season in Miami availed the time necessary to expand into other realms every year for over two decades. She was able to both explore a multitude of career opportunities in artistic realms and also deep dive into secret mystical arts.

"What a gift those summers were! They really allowed me delve into Law of Attraction, meditation, mind over matter manifestation methodologies, and to deeply study energy healing techniques such as Reiki and other spiritual energy healing modalities," she said.

Sky immersed into schooling from a wide array of practices.

"Both my career and mystery school knowledge evolved - and secretly I blended the two to live out so many of my dreams. I use a combination of techniques similar to those which have been mainstreamed by Louise Hay, Esther Hicks, Jose Silva, And Dr. Usui, and have crafted unique self-improvement, manifestation, and mystical practices to share with others. I also loved playing with individual fashion style and visual arts for decor," she said.

Sky not only worked as a talent but has been a fashion editor, producer, make-up artist, decorator, and worked with a wide array of luxe brands.

"Both of my parents are professionals in the arts and both have been teachers therein. My mother is a Reiki Master and an artist. My father is a professional dancer. It's all in the blood and has evolved from each career each summer. I developed skill sets for this leg in my journey - coaching and helping others to live their dreams, too. We are collectively awakening spiritually now, painting our realities. We each have things we set out to do with our lives and when we awaken are realizing who we truly are and what we actually want. Some of us just need a little help to get on track, to navigate the obstacles and bumps in the road ... energy tune ups. You may want more from life but get stuck in the old ways - let's face it, everything is constantly changing. I can assist you with transmuting subconscious thought patterns while you are in a meditative level towards your desires. I can energetically clear unwanted or outworn things from your mind and energy body, to plant the new nourishments and seeds. I usually begin working in the aura on chakras, focusing on forgiveness of self and others, understanding, and how to begin transforming into the best version to achieve your hearts desires. Practical guidance and action activities to cleanse, and then to navigate, can be so helpful. People really feel a spa-like experience from the enlightenment they receive at HipGoddess™. I've seen clients lives completely change for the better as a result of the work we do together and the steps they then take," she continued.

"It's time to move up emotionally, spiritually. We are growing into a new awareness, expanding into a completely new reality here on Earth. My intention is to be of service. I do so by guiding you to and through some fun and easy ways you can enjoy to help you transform yourself, to live your best life," Sky added.

The way she says manifestation works is: "Each new idea, concept and creation starts off in the stillness, energetically - before is able to manifest into this physical reality. Transformation begins there. Quantum physics is just catching up with what prophets and masters have always known. The metaphysical techniques utilized for deliberate creation are founded within the same principals as this science. It's a harmonization of frequencies, thought patterns, realizations, and deliberate intentions. Using the power of your mind, and specific activity and mantra exercises that are practiced, anchored, and then acted upon. I artfully craft customized unique experiential spa-like sessions designed to uplift your spirits, enhance your intuition, and energize you and your individual desires. Results gained by my clients are achieved by co-creating through the highest power. In other words - it may only be for good and aligned to your best purposes. Utilizing Universal Law, with the help of Angels, it is spiritually energetic healing- non-denominational, accepting, and pleasant - even fun! No touching is required," she said.

Sky makes a point of differentiating between what she does with what a fortune teller does.

"If you want someone to read into your future or hold a séance, I'm not your girl!" she said, "This works in the NOW - the present moment is all that we have. What's NOW in the vibrational vortex of your life's purpose?"

Sky also is wary of using hypnosis or using substances to facilitate this spiritual growth.

"I feel that it's important that everyone always keeps control over their own mind in my Soul Spa. Even in the deepest level guided meditation service - that use the mind-over-matter (pattern reprogramming utilization) techniques; when down in the theta or up in the gamma levels, I always make certain that you as my client are in total and complete control of the intentions and going in direction you have chosen. We use affirmations and directives of the choicest verbiage for only good-possibility-results. This way you know for sure everything happening is safe, and what you choose, what you ask for to fulfill your desires. This philosophy is fundamental to my practice," she explained.

Sky came out of the closet spiritually a few years ago, creating the HIPGoddess™ "soul spa" treatment room at MHIPB and presenting mystical secrets workshops. She also began teaching Next Level VISION BOARD classes with the Boca Museum of Art's Art School, and presenting activation readings for private events. HipGoddess™ is pleased to offer individual services and private coaching. The Soul Spa room is adorned magically with symbolic artworks and tools containing crystals and sacred encodements, most of which Sky created herself.

Sky concluded, "Healing frequencies emitted from my artwork here has been said to have profound effects. They enhance just as the fabulous sound healing instruments, magnetic wands and crystals do. Please choose from my current service menu or try a freestyle session. all you need is to be willing to be willing!"

Hobby to Dream to Passion to Obsession ... Classic and Collectible Cars

Biondo Palm Beach is often invited to display at prestigious car shows such as the annual Cavallino Classic at Mar-a-Lago.

"As a retired Mercedes Benz, BMW, and VW dealer, I already had a passion for the styling and design of older cars. Biondo Palm Beach and my personal collection are the result of me following my dream starting in 1974.

I truly enjoy the rare, funky, retro and fun classic and collectible cars.

I am fueled by sharing the unique collection with other owners and enthusiasts. Also, I am honored to be able to donate cars to local charities in Palm Beach, Locust Valley and Kennebunkport, as well as for movie shoots."
